FIREWARDS' REPORT

We had one very serious fire at Robert Stone's mill which was a total loss. The Troy Fire Company came to our assistance with their motor driven pump and gave us a great help which enabled us to save quite a lot of lumber, etc. We had no other serious fires.

The equipment of the fire department is as follows:

One Hunneman hand pumping engine (stored away).

One Evenrude gasoline pumping engine.

A supply of pails, hoes, shovels, ladders and hand extinguishers and one motor driven chemical engine at Depot Co.

The equipment of the Village Co., is somewhat better than it was a year ago.

In addition we have a motor pump which is a little larger than the Evenrude pump and the firemen have arranged it on a motor vehicle. They have done a lot of work on this machine without pay and they deserve a lot of credit and thanks for the many hours they spent on this machine.

We also purchased some new hose to replace defective hose and we have a fairly good supply. We installed heat in the engine house at the Village as we thought that was the only practical way to have motor driven equipment, also chemicals.

The Chemical Engine Co., at the Depot Village, need a motor driven pump for their equipment. They have had some trouble in getting sufficient heat in the engine house to keep the chemicals from freezing this winter.

We feel that the town ought to own their own building for this company.

CLARENCE M. DAMON,

FRANK T. ANGIER,

Firewards of Fitzwilliam.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Fitzwilliam School Board:

I submit herewith my twelfth annual report as Superintendent of Schools, the thirtieth in the series under union supervision.

The opening of the school year in September, 1929 found the positions in all our schools filled by the same teachers as last year. This is the first time of which I can find any record when we have been able to retain our entire teaching force, and it speaks well, not only for the teachers in our schools but for the parents and citizens who have so loyally supported them.

Our only change was in the position of supervisor of music, and for this position we were fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Mildred H. Whitecomb of Keene, who taught music in the Troy and Fitzwilliam schools several years ago.

The Junior High school shows a slight reduction in enrollment, being 44 where it was 50 last year, but the average membership has shown no reduction, it shows 44 as compared with 46.94 for last year.

The enrollment for the entire district shows a reduction, the total being 164, where last year 192 were enrolled, and the previous year an enrollment of 189.

A recent institute circular by the State Board of Education entitled a Decade of School Progress sets forth in very clear form the answer to two very important questions, first, "Are New Hampshire schools better than they were ten years ago?"

Second, "Are the children, particularly those of rural towns, getting more advantages than formerly?"

Since the reorganization of the Fitzwilliam schools took place at the opening of the school year, 1919-20, it may be of some interest to consider the progress in this town during that period.

For some time previous to this date the schools had been grouped in four grades each at the Columbian and Village schools, with two teachers taking charge of a small group in the senior high school, while the rural schools had eight grades then, as now.

The reorganization in 1919 reduced the number of grades in the Columbian and Village schools to three grades each, and a Junior High School comprising grades seven, eight and nine was established. The Domestic Science course was continued for the girls and a Manual Arts course established in place of the Agricultural course for the boys.

This reorganization required no larger teaching force than the former plan, but gave each teacher in the primary and intermediate grades a smaller group to care for, and increased the Junior High School group to between forty and fifty pupils under the charge of two teachers.

This plan has worked out so successfully that it is doubtful if any one would care to return to the former plan.

The large number of pupils going on each year to the upper classes of the high school denotes an increased desire on the part of parents and pupils to secure a full high school course whenever possible.

The work of the Junior High school has shown steady improvement; more worthwhile projects are being worked out by the students, and parents and pupils have manifested an increasing interest in, and appreciation of, their school.

The erection of the new Junior High school building not only provided modern and convenient rooms for the school work, but its location allowed a saving in the matter of transportation.

For a time it was necessary to secure teachers for the elementary schools who had only summer school or partial normal school training, but for several years all the new teachers employed have been graduates of a post secondary institution.

During this decade Fitzwilliam has received annually from the State equalization fund amounts ranging from $1,300 to $5,000 which has enabled the school district to work out the improvements mentioned in carrying on the schools and providing them with trained teachers.

I believe that no one familiar with conditions ten years ago can doubt that our schools have shown a decided improvement during this period.

In closing I desire to thank the school board, teachers, pupils and parents for their generous co-operation during the past year.

Very truly yours,

LEWIS S. RECORD.

East Jaffrey, N. H., January 31, 1930.
